About the Event

AlHuda Centre of Islamic Banking and Economics (CIBE) is pleased to announce the Caribbean Islamic Banking & Finance Forum 2026, a premier platform aimed at promoting Islamic finance across the Caribbean region.

The forum will bring together regulators, financial institutions, Shariah scholars, investors, and industry experts to explore opportunities, challenges, and innovative solutions in Islamic banking, Takaful, Sukuk, and Halal investments.

With the Caribbean emerging as a potential hub for ethical and alternative finance, this event will serve as a catalyst for industry growth, collaboration, and knowledge sharing.

About the Caribbean

The Caribbean is a diverse and strategically located region comprising island nations and coastal territories known for their vibrant cultures, growing economies, and strong connections to global trade and tourism. Positioned at the crossroads of North and South America, the region offers significant potential for financial innovation and investment. In recent years, Caribbean countries have shown increasing interest in diversifying their financial sectors, creating opportunities for ethical and alternative systems such as Islamic finance. With supportive regulatory developments, expanding infrastructure, and a demand for inclusive financial solutions, the Caribbean is well-positioned to emerge as a promising market for Islamic banking and finance.

Objectives of the Forum

- Promote awareness and adoption of Islamic finance in the Caribbean
- Explore investment opportunities and regulatory frameworks
- Facilitate partnerships between local and international stakeholders
- Highlight innovative Islamic financial products and services
- Strengthen capacity building and professional development

Target Audience

- Central Banks & Regulatory Authorities
- Commercial & Islamic Banks
- Insurance & Takaful Companies
- Investment Firms & Asset Managers
- Government Representatives
- Shariah Scholars & Advisors
- Academics & Researchers
- FinTech Companies
- Business Leaders & Entrepreneurs
